Lucy and Frank are both learning the drums at school. Lucy hardly ever practices, while Frank practices every day. Last week the music teacher held auditions for the school band. Lucy was chosen to be the drummer for the big School Band Tournament.	Ahmed gets to hand out the tuckshop every week. The teacher gave him the job. Jack thinks it's because Ahmed can't speak English and doesn't have any friends. He'd like to give the tuckshop out too.
Suki left the gate open and her dog ran away. Her mum said she's not allowed to have another puppy because she didn't take care of the last one.	The local Rotary club is offering a scholarship to support one local student go to university. The scholarship goes to the student with the highest mark on a special exam. Ned wants to study engineering, but can't afford to go to uni. Ned missed out on the scholarship by one mark to the richest kid in town.
Susie got the highest aggregate score on Athletics Day. Normally the highest scorer is sent to State Championships, but the principal said that Susie can't go because her school marks are too low.	Meg has Down Syndrome. Up until this year she was always in the school choir, but the new music teacher has said it would be better if she didn't compete in the eisteddfod this time. Meg doesn't remember the words to the songs. She sings a bit out of tune too.
Steve can't go on the Year Seven excursion because his wheelchair won't fit in the charter bus. He has to stay at school and do extra work. The Year Four teacher is going to supervise him.	Nikki is very overweight. She wears casual clothes to school because the uniform doesn't come in a size large enough to fit her.
Wendy used to be the most popular girl in the class. She's pretty, clever and friendly to everyone. A new girl arrived at school last week. Her dad is on TV so everyone is keen to get to know her. The new girl tells people that if they're friends with Wendy they can't be friends with her. Wendy has been looking a lot less happy lately.	Tao's mum picks him up on her way from work and takes him straight to soccer training. The principal said that Tao can't wait outside the gate any more, and has to wait in the office. Now his mum has to park the car, walk to the office and pick him up...which takes ages! The coach said that if Tao is late for training one more time, he's dropping him from A Grade to the Reserves.
